Waiting for a DOI

This research output by Cranfield University has not yet been assigned a Digital Object Identifier (DOI). This may be because:

1. The output is waiting to be published in a public-facing repository or commercial system,
2. The output is still going through a verification process before final publication,
3. The output is not eligible for a DOI and another form of identification may be needed,
4. There is a technical problem.

You are welcome to contact the Research Support team in Library Services (via researchsupport@cranfield.ac.uk) with details of the reference and the referring page. They may be able to supply an alternative version.
